BIGG Tip: Networking & Name Tags: Right or Left Side? - Right-handed people naturally slap it on their left side. But that's incorrect, according to Emily Post. People use their right hand for handshakes. With your hand outstretched and your tag on the right, the person you're greeting can easily see it. They're also more likely to remember your name and where you work. When networking, remember "right is right" leads to BIGG success. Get more tips from BIGG Success here.
