Danville Country Club Welcomes New Manager Ashley Burns

Exciting changes are happening at the Danville Country Club (DCC) in 2019. Most notably, the club is welcoming its new Clubhouse Manager, Ashley Burns, to the team.

Burns is a perfect fit for her new role. "I enjoy working with the public, and have always had a passion for food," Burns said. The food service industry has been a part of Burn's life for as long as she can remember.

Her mother was the manager at the truck stop in Oakwood throughout most of her childhood. This is where Burns began her career and worked for ten years. After that, Burns made the switch to hotel management. She comes into her new role after six years with Marriott, most recently as an Assistant General Manager.

In her new role with the DCC, Burns will oversee all things related to the clubhouse. This includes back-end work, managing and training the house staff, and managing the club's many banquets and events.

"The club has a very active social calendar throughout the year with events ranging from Dueling Pianos to Halloween hayrides for kids," Burns said. "The fun, relaxing environment starts in the spring and runs all year long."

Danville Country Club's marquee attraction is its beautiful 18-hole championship golf course. The course's natural setting with three sets of tees offers a challenge for any caliber of golfer.

In the summer months, members enjoy the benefits of a full swimming pool with a separate diving pool and poolside snack shack. The club's amenities also include its clay tennis courts, restaurant, and banquet center.

Danville Country Club offers a variety of membership packages for both families and individuals. The Full Golf Membership includes unlimited golf privileges, and access to the club's pool, tennis courts, and restaurant. The Social Membership lets members enjoy access to the swimming pool, tennis court, and restaurant and includes two rounds of golf per year.
